

CERTIFICATE FOR CONFERENCE ASSISTANT

Anas Uddin

has worked as a conference assistant at the European Conference on Educational Research (ECER) during 17.08.–21.08.2026.

The European Conference on Educational Research (ECER) was jointly organised by Tampere University, its Faculty of Education and Culture (EDU), the European Educational Research Association (EERA), and the City of Tampere in August 2026. ECER is an annual event that brings together educational researchers from around the globe to discuss major topics in the field. Over the past number of years, ECER has become one of Europe's largest conferences for Educational Research, this year drawing over 3800 participants from 80 nations.

The conference could not have been realised without the vital contribution of the conference assistants whose tasks included, but were not limited to: registering participants, providing technical and administrative assistance at the conference buildings and in session rooms and finding quick and effective solutions for the many and various requests made by the delegates. The language of the conference was English.
